

Captain Evan Cullen

President, IALPA

In 1989 Evan Cullen joined Aer Lingus directly from college as a fully sponsored trainee pilot. Currently an A320 captain with Aer Lingus, he first got involved in IALPA through Aer Lingus pilot pay and scope negotiations in 1996 and completed the IFALPA negotiations course in the same year.

In 2001 Captain Cullen was appointed to lead the IALPA negotiating team on the restructuring of Aer Lingus following the 911 tragedy. He was elected President of Irish ALPA in 2003 and has been re-elected on 5 subsequent occasions.
